

IT IS GREAT TO WORK AT GCB

GCB has been enjoying the spotlight lately! The agency has been celebrated in the news media on several different occasions over the last few months.

- GCB was recently named by the Cincinnati Enquirer as a “Top Workplace 2010” in a special section highlighting area companies that consistently strive to deliver the best possible customer services by empowering and encouraging their employees. Greater Cincinnati Behavioral Health Services was selected as among the best. The award was given as the result of a voluntary anonymous survey distributed to employees by independent agent Workplace Dynamics earlier in the year. Their responses earned GCB the award as a Top Workplace in the Tri-State for 2010.
- The Cincinnati Business Courier chose GCB as a finalist for its “Health Care Heroes” award in the category "Community Outreach", for our efforts combining primary health care and behavioral health care as a part of its comprehensive services for adults with severe mental illness.
- The Business Courier also selected GCB’s own Joe Johnston as a finalist for its “CFO of the Year” award, which will be announced in August.

And in case you missed it,

- Cincinnati magazine published an article on GCB’s Homeless Veterans Outreach project in the July issue. GCB’s Myron Reynolds is featured as he makes connections with area homeless veterans.

To learn about current job opportunities at GCB, visit <http://www.gcbhs.com/careers.php>.